For Review

John:

Here is the response prepared by JH to the OEL request for special courier service. I have taken the liberty of redrafting Steve's earlier memo which did not seem to me to be very clear.

Steve tells me that we can provide this service at no extra cost. Our early morning courier has been picking up magnetic tapes from OEL but has not delivered them to [ ] in time to catch the 0700 courier that goes from [ ] to NSA. On the days that OEL wants us to deliver tapes to NSA they will just call in the early morning courier earlier than usual in order to have the material here before 0700. Steve tells me that the arrangements have already been informally worked out between [redacted] and OEL. When George first got this request, he asked for them to put it in writing. He was somewhat surprised to find the requirement done up for the signature of the Director, OEL.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, National Photographic Interpretation Center

ATTENTION: Chief, Production Services Group, Research and Reference Division

SUBJECT: Special Courier Service

1. From time to time this Office has magnetic tape recordings and other material which must be expedited to NSA. Because of the material's classification and priority, it cannot be held until the normal 0700 courier pickup the following day.

2. As a result, it is requested that your Office provide special courier service as required by the Office
